Family guide: Volunteering, vendor booths and sponsoring

Seattle Little Rangers · November 2026

Seattle Little Rangers is run by volunteers, and our big events have room for local shops and sponsors. Anyone can offer to help: parents, member families, businesses and our own organizers. You don’t need an account, and it takes about two minutes.

Offering help at one event

An event that needs help says so on its card on the Events page (Volunteers wanted, or Vendors & sponsors wanted), and its page has a Help at this event box. It tells you what is needed, such as a booth fee or how many volunteers. Press Volunteer, Run a booth or Sponsor.

The Help at this event box on an event page

Filling in the sign-up

The button opens the sign-up page with that event already chosen:

The volunteer sign-up form

1. I would like to (vendors and sponsors only): choose Run a booth or bring your shop, or Sponsor.
2. Which event?: the event you came from. Choose Any upcoming event (in general) to help whenever you can.
3. Your name, and for a booth or a sponsor, your Business or organization. If it is just you, enter your own name.
4. Email: we send a copy of your sign-up here and reply here. If you are signed in, it is already filled in.
5. Phone or WeChat (optional): so we can reach you on the day.
6. How would you like to help? or What would you like to offer?: choose the closest one.
7. Tell us a little more: when you are free, or what you sell and what you need (a table, power, space).
8. Press Send my sign-up.

If something is missing, the page says what, in red, under the field it is about.

After you send it

- You get a copy by email straight away, in English and Chinese.
- Someone from SLR emails you within a few days to agree the time and your job, or the booth details or sponsor options.
- To change something, reply to that email.
- If you send the same sign-up twice, the website tells you we already have it.

Seeing your sign-ups, or withdrawing one

If you sign in on the website with the email you signed up with, My registrations has a Helping out list under your events. Each sign-up says where it stands: Waiting for SLR's reply, Confirmed, or Not needed this time.

Helping out on My registrations

Can't help any more? Press Withdraw my sign-up under it, then OK. We are told straight away, so nobody counts on you. You can also just reply to our email. (Signing in is described in Signing in and "My registrations".)

Offering help in general

Press Get involved at the top of the website, then Volunteer or Vendors & sponsors. These pages list the upcoming events looking for help, and their form lets you choose one or Any upcoming event.

Common questions

Do I need an account? No. Your email is enough. An account only lets you see your sign-ups on My registrations.

Is my family registered for the event when I volunteer? No: a sign-up to help is not a registration. If your children are coming to take part, register for the event as usual. See Registering for an event.

Can volunteer hours count toward a membership? Yes. See Becoming an SLR member family.

Is there a booth fee? If there is one, the event's Help at this event box says so. Otherwise we tell you when we reply.

Can I sponsor without a booth? Yes, choose Sponsor. You can also simply give: see Donating to Seattle Little Rangers.